Phases of the Stout Community

Out of the days of primitive saw mills grew the greatest lumber corporation in the world, and around it grew the settlement of Menomonie, Wisconsin.

The land on which Knapp, Stout and Company worked for twenty years to produce the largest quantity of lumber in the world was plotted in 1859 and at once given the name Menomonie.

Other industries in Menomonie also thrived — among them the manufacture of bricks, iron, and dairy products.

The days of the lumber operations produced a population of 1,082. Since that time the city has grown immensely to the present population of 16,000, which includes the Stout University students.

Industry has increased, producing a variety of nationally known "made in Menomonie" products, along with the more than two hundred retail establishments in the city of Menomonie.

James Huff Stout, heir to his father's lumber empire, had no intention of living the life of the idle rich. He not only saw a need for a future industrial society, but also a need for a different type of education. So in 1891 a two-story frame building became the Stout Manual Training School. The school was so successful that Stout decided to build a larger building. In 1893 it was completed, an impressive three-story wooden structure with a clock tower rising 125 feet. Four years later Stout's school burned to ashes, and as the people of Menomonie had grown dependent on the school, immediate plans were made for a better building. The new three-story structure of steel and brick is known today as Bowman Hall.

The addition of many schools of instruction fulfilled Stout's increasing educational needs. In 1908 the Stout Institute was created and offered a two year diploma program.

Senator James Stout died in 1910, leaving the Stout Institute to the state of Wisconsin. Lorenzo D. Harvey became president in the same year. Soon after, Ray Hall, Harvey Hall, and a heating plant were built. Harvey not only wanted expansion of buildings but also the expansion of learning. He was at the forefront of the movement to convert the institute to a four year college. However, World War I hindered the development of the program.

Not long after the war President Harvey passed away. Dean Clyde Bowman acted as president for a year before a successor was found.

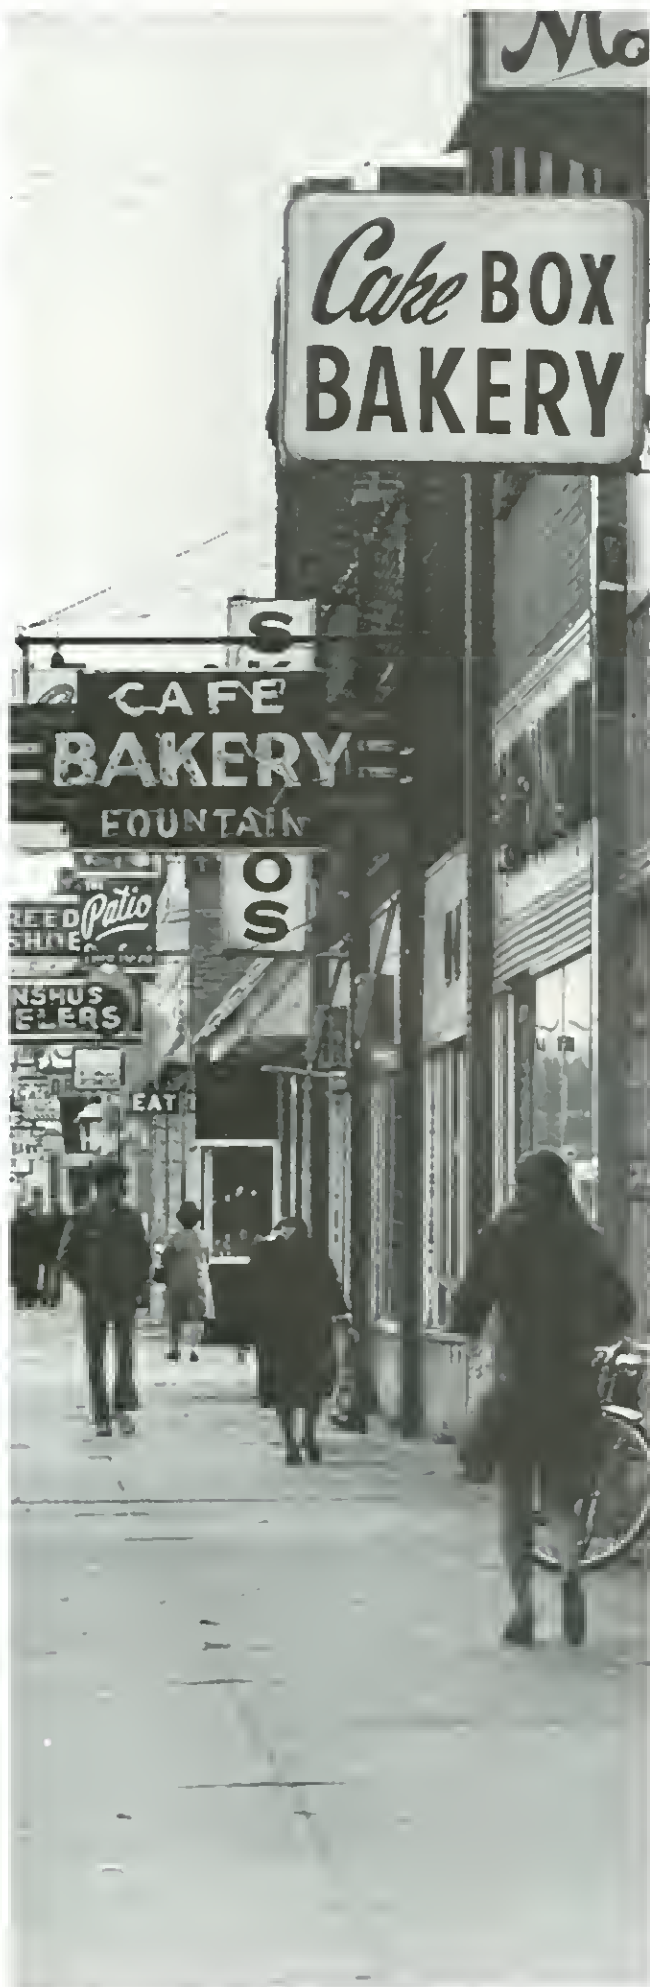

Burton Nelson, who had been teaching since the age of fifteen, assumed the duties of President in April 1923. Regular and summer sessions steadily increased with an enrollment of 589 in both, and many organizations and new departments were formed. In the 1930's, after extensive arguing for money, President Nelson was able to buy land and construct an athletic field. At the Homecoming game in October 1935 the Burton E. Nelson Athletic Field was dedicated. The end of Nelson's era came in the summer of 1945. Many changes took place in the twenty-two years of his term of office. Stout made the transition from a two year to a four year college and changed its objectives and its curriculum to meet the standards of accrediting agencies. Graduate work was also added.

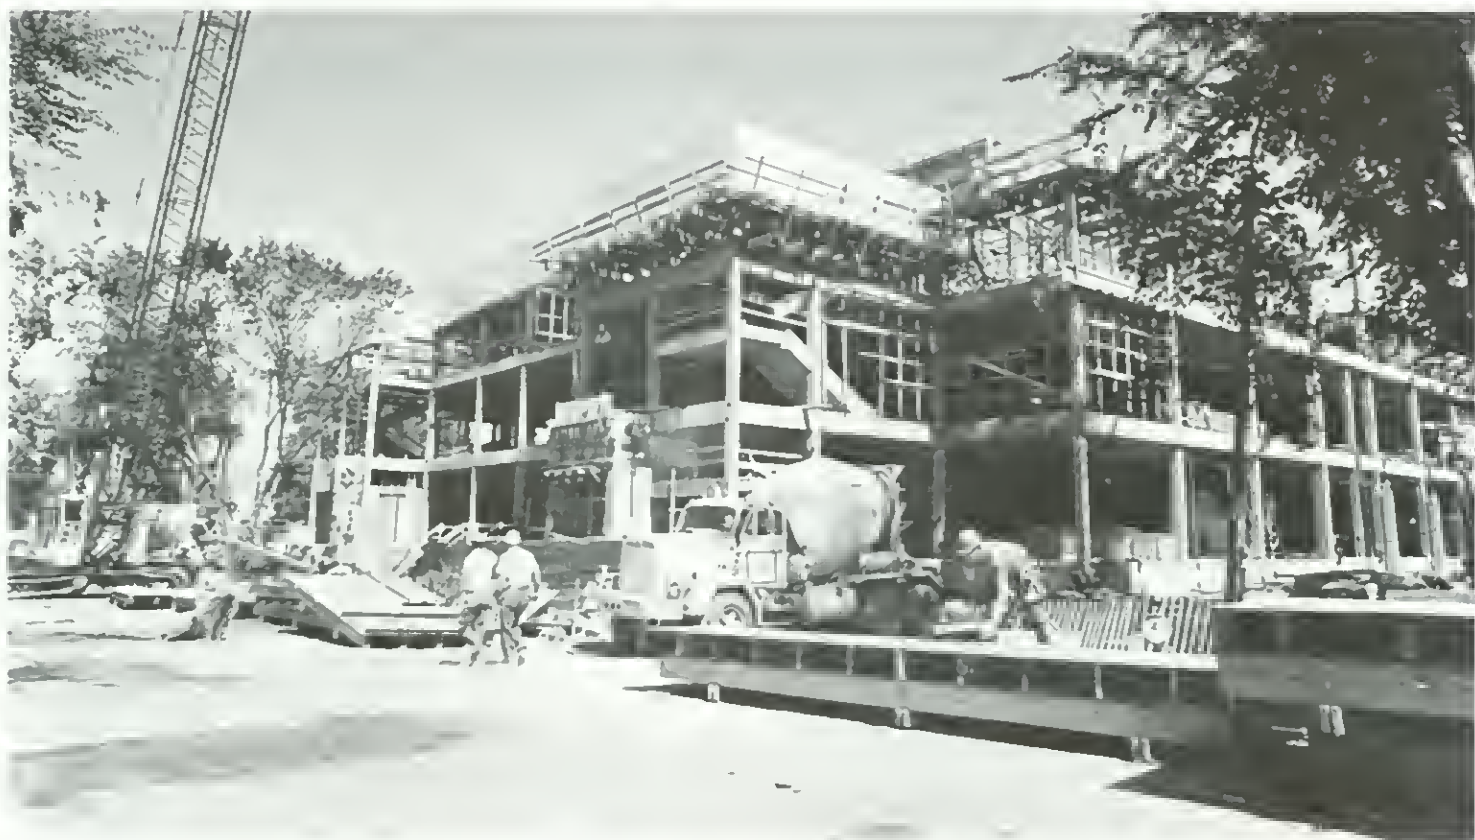

The Board of Trustees selected Verne C. Frykland, a Stout graduate, as Nelson's successor. Stout made two additions to its plant in the 1950's, the Robert L. Pierce Library and the Memorial Student Center. In 1961 completion of a new shop and classroom building, the first such facility erected in forty-five years, was named Frykland Hall, in honor of Stout's third president. Curriculum and instruction increased at a rapid pace; graduate work was extended from summer school to a year round offering; and more majors were introduced.

In 1954 the Board of Higher Education proposed that the Stout Institute be transferred to the Board of Regents of the State Colleges. The transfer was made effective July 1, 1955. On June 13 the Stout Institute held its last meeting and the school became Stout State College.

During the year 1960-61, President Fryklund announced his retirement. In the same year, the new President, William J. Micheels, presented his inaugural address to Stout State College.

Increasing enrollment brought a demand for new facilities. The Health and Physical Education center was completed, and a new heating plant was added. By 1967, accommodations for students had been enlarged by six new dormitories, a food service, and a major addition to the student center.

In 1968 Stout State University celebrated its diamond jubilee anniversary, marking 75 years of educational progress.

The dream of a new Science and Technology building, Library addition, and Administration building have come about in the past two years. The new Fine Arts and Home Economics buildings are to be completed in the near future.

The 1971-72 school year saw the Wisconsin State University system and the University of Wisconsin system merged, bringing about a name change for the school to the University of Wisconsin-Stout. It also marked the end of William Micheels' service as president, as he moved to the position of distinguished professor.

An oasis of shade brings relief from the hot summer sun.
A summer rain replenishes the earth, sizzling and steaming as it hits the hot asphalt world.

Do you live
for the companionship of others;
to search the world of knowledge;
or to feast on the beauty of God's creation?
Why were you born?

Days pass,
seasons change,
and years multiply;
but the beauty of life
will always surround us.

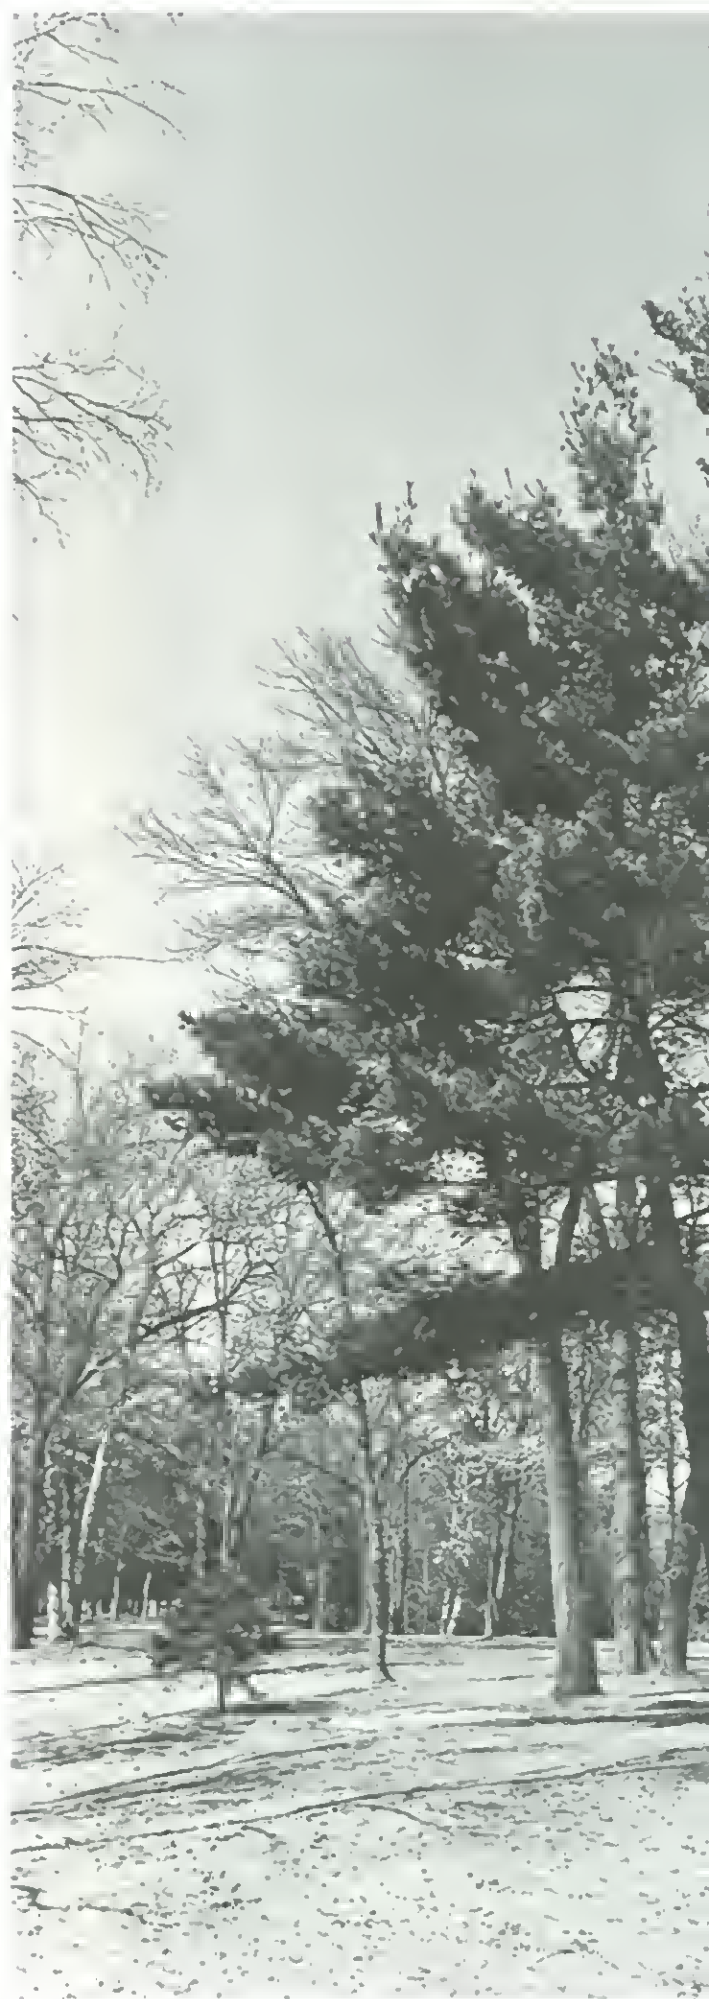

Like falling leaves and flocks of geese taking formation, students migrate from their summer heydays with a rustling through the warm wind.

The campus is aroused as a new school year begins.
The billiard table echoes a sharp crack and the fans in the stands roar away the quiet.

Action, suspense, and then a pause;
life shuttles and shifts its participants from one extreme to another with no forewarning or invitation.

The heating plant strikes up a belching rhythm and everyone nestles into their brick cubes while the snow spreads out an immaculate blanket over the earth and the trees slip into new white fur coats.

Amidst the peaceful nature of winter is a day for the birth of Christ which reflects
an equally peaceful nature but is celebrated in a gaudy bang-up fashion.

Expressions on a face can be easily reflected into snow just as easily as concern, distress, happiness, or contentment
take only a glance to be revealed.

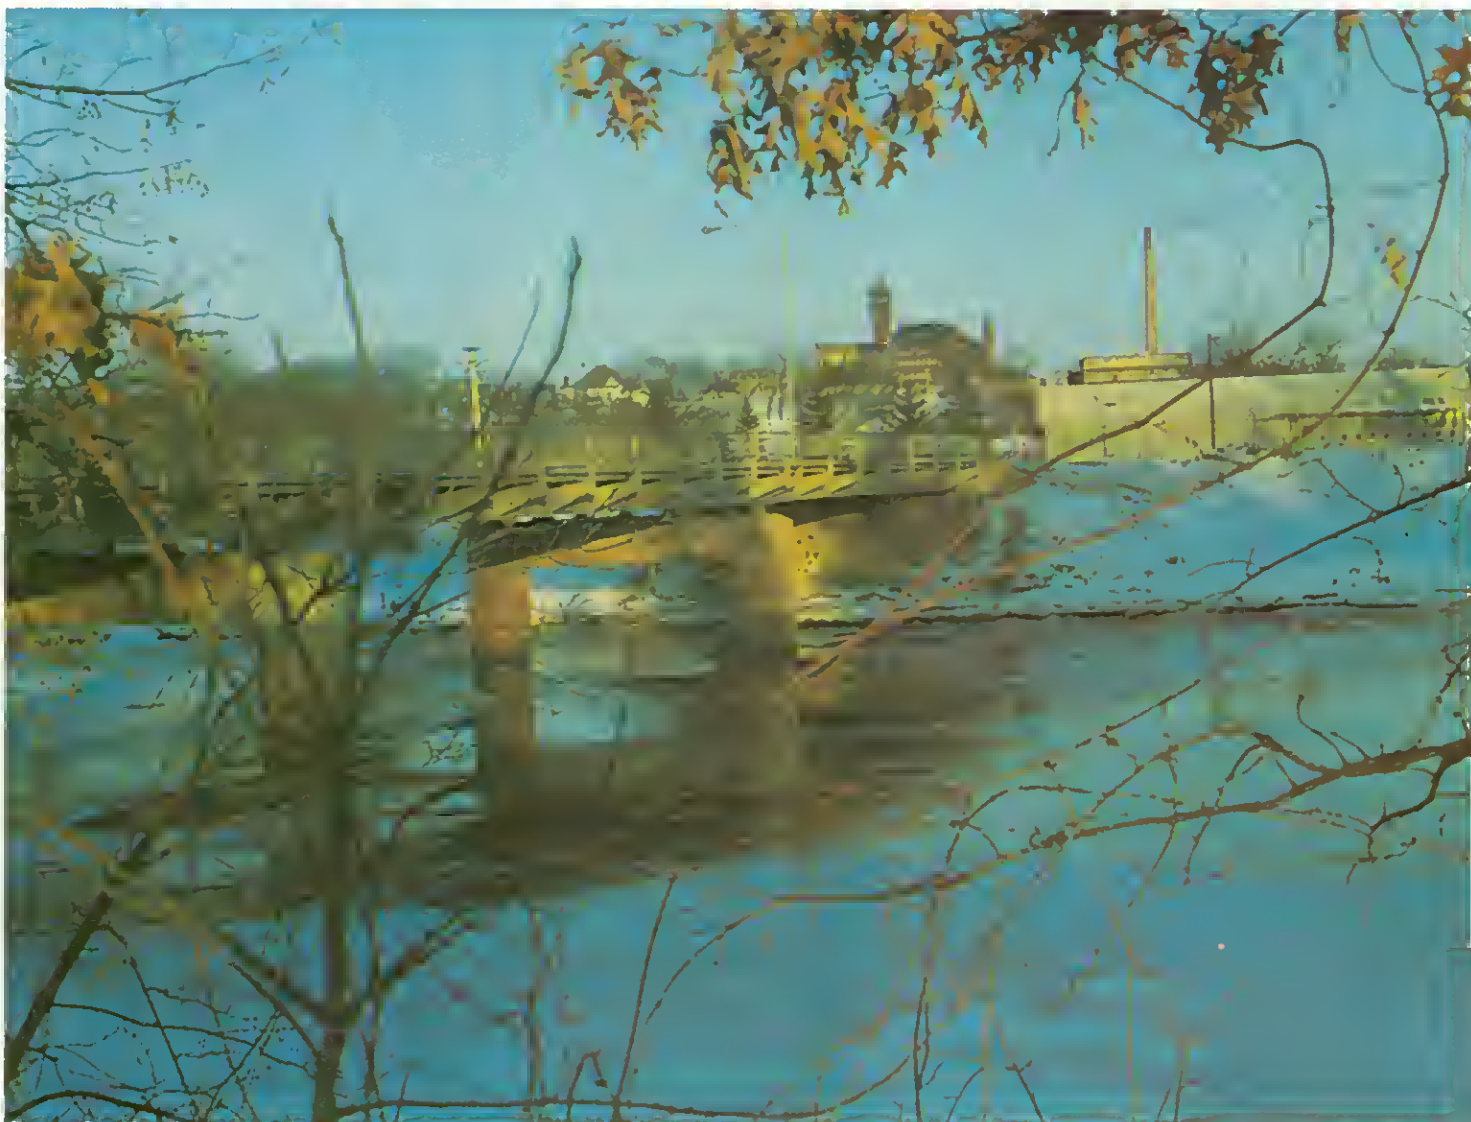

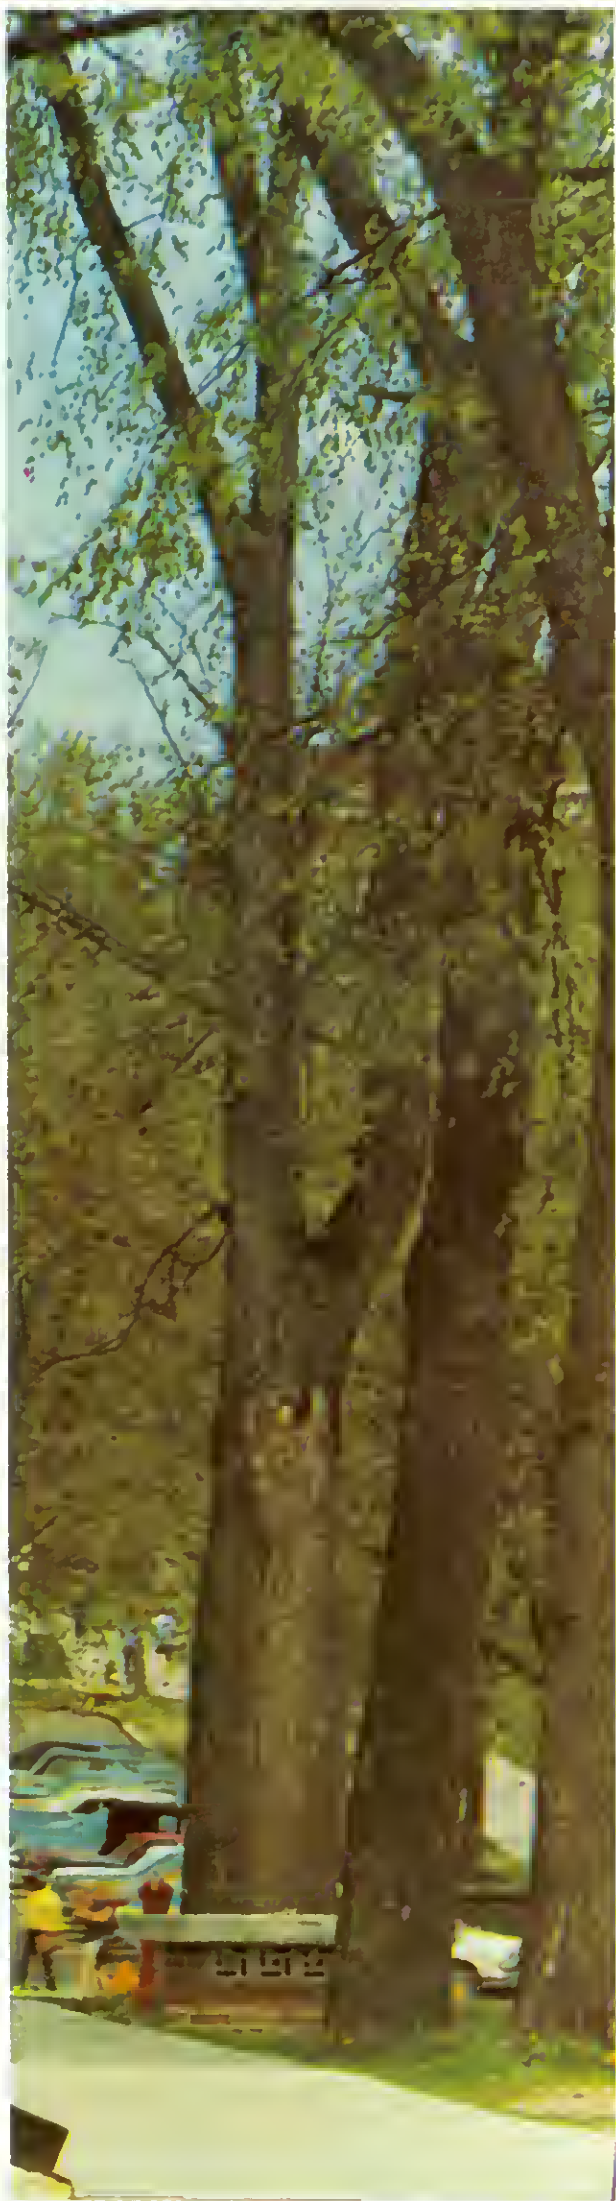

The sun draws itself
beneath the depths of sight and another day closes.
The world stands dimmed till the breaking of a new day.

The sun rips back the blanket of snow and thaws the waters to reveal a new season of fresh color, washing into the golden horizon of spring.

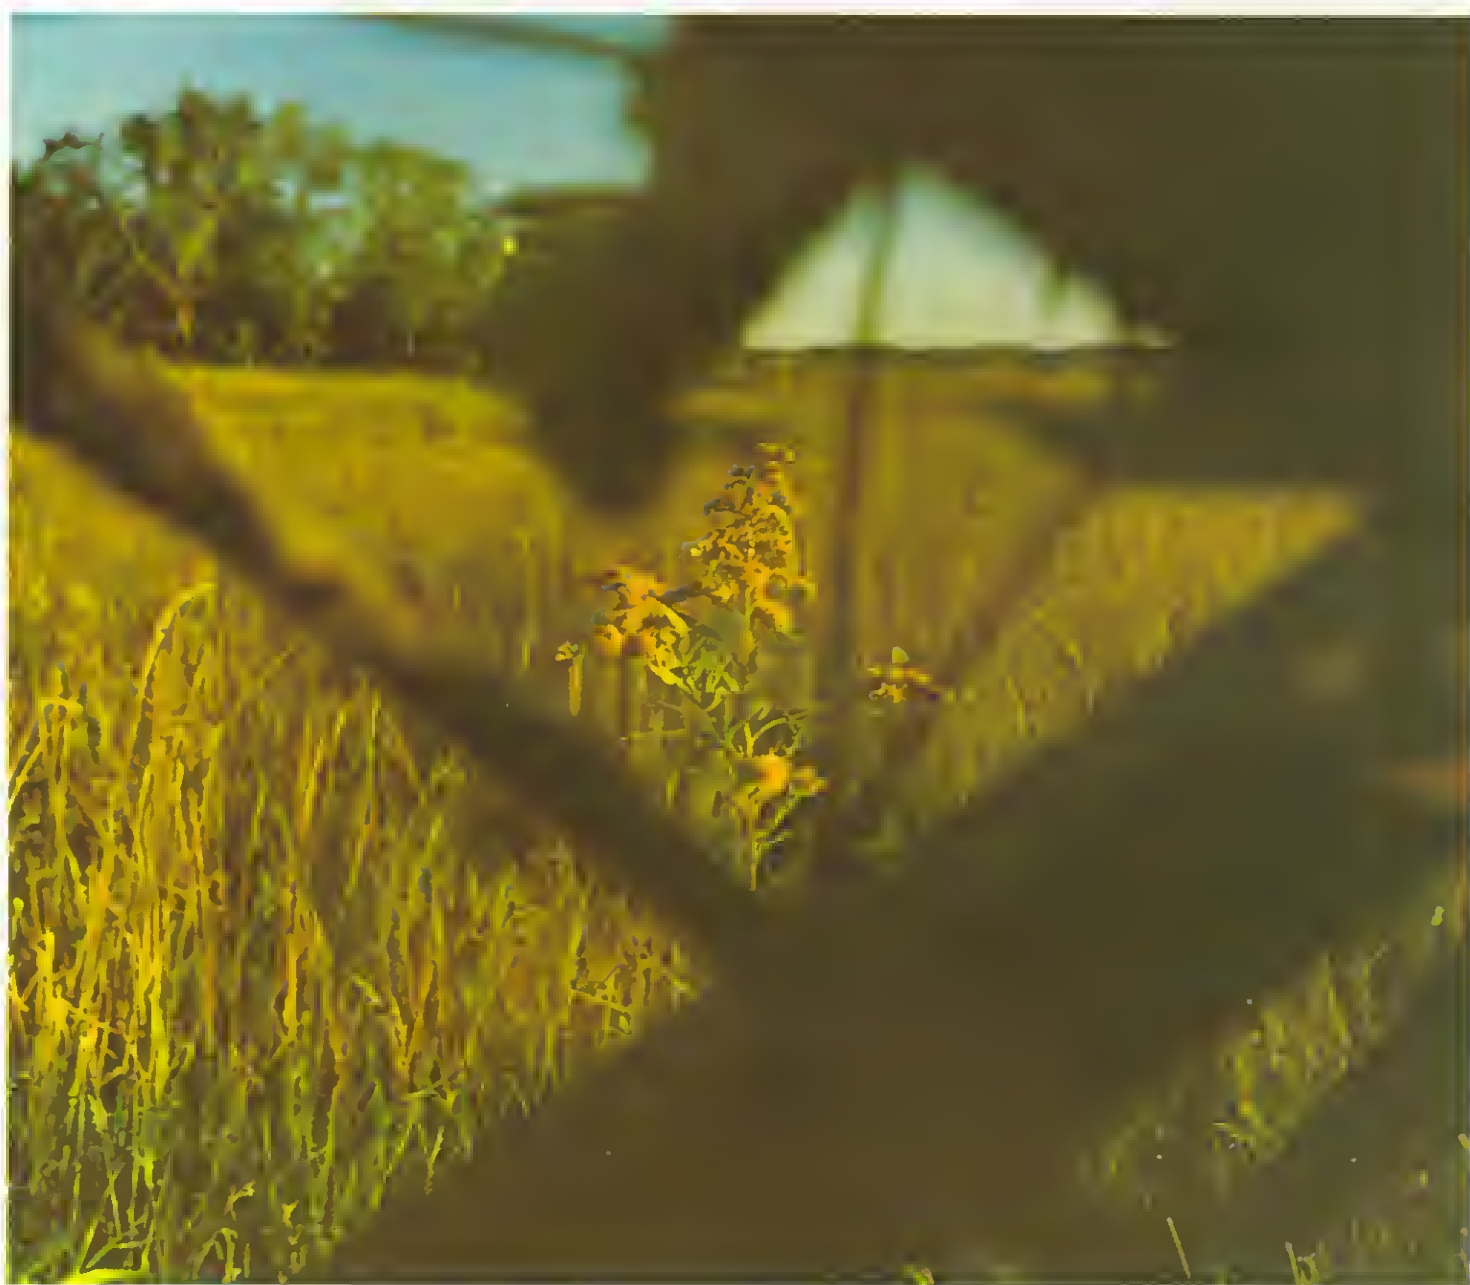

As spring sparks a new light,
the world is in a fever
that lightens heads and opens hearts.

The summer heat,
the cool fall breeze,
winter's snow and sleet,
and the new life of spring — each season clutches on to its unmatched traits and memories,
with anticipations
for its return.

The summer of 1971 proved to be a creative experience with the Menomonie Children's Fine Arts Program, sponsored by the Stout Art Gallery. The variety of activities encompassed children from the ages of four to fifteen.

One of the major projects within the three week session was an original play entitled "The Wheel." It was taped and presented to parents and other community members. Another project was a clothesline art show.

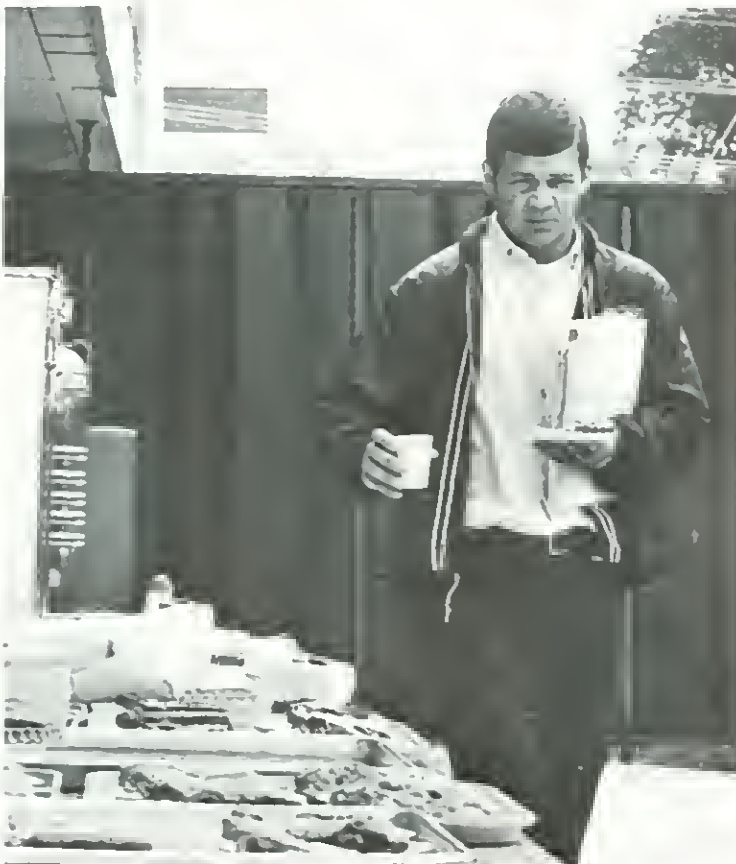

The program reached the entire community by exploring various media in creative arts.

Evening Concerts Held Throughout Summer Months

Even though the close of the school year took most of Stout's musicians home until September, one can always find musicians in Menomonie. During the summer if one wanted to sit in Wilson Park and listen to a relaxing concert by the Luddington Guard Band, one was always able to do so on Tuesday nights. The members of the summer band were summer session students, high school students, and townspeople.

Conferences Drew Diverse Participants

Leaders in government, labor, industry, and education came to Stout this summer to participate in various conferences. Featured speakers from both the education and business fields highlighted the conferences with talks on various topics particular to their interests. The Graphic Arts Conference, the Sixth Annual Educational Media and Technology Conference, and the Industrial Arts Forum attracted participants from throughout the Midwest.

Artists and Marketers Set Up Shop in the Open Air

Framed chicken wire was the backdrop for many eager artists taking their first crack at captivating the public with their works of hand crafted jewelry, sculpture, pottery, paintings, drawings, and prints. After captivation, artists held their sales to satisfactory bargains.

The "coup de art" festival committee sponsored the art show and sale held August 8th and 9th, which also included a flea market. The affair encouraged those who made good sales, and tested endurance for those who waited for the "big sell".

Glimpse of Life at College Seen by Prospective Freshmen

Moving in on the night life in Menomonie ... tripping downtown for that all important SSU T-shirt or windbreaker ... experiencing life in the dorms for the first time ... realizing what it's like sandwiching classes together at registration and forgetting to leave time for lunch ... this awaited the expectant freshmen at orientation sessions held during the summer months. Not only did orientation allow the students to experience the delights that Menomonie has to offer, but it also acquainted them with college life. Fears were dismissed; energies were released; friendships were formed; dreams were realized. All of these activities were part of freshmen orientation.

Alumni Awards Presented at Summer Graduation

After attending summer session to pick up those last credits that didn't quite make it in June, 302 students became recipients of their respective degrees on August 13, 1971. Of those graduating, 196 received master degrees, 101 received bachelor degrees, and 5 were recipients of educational specialist degrees in industrial and vocational education.

During the commencement exercises, Mrs. Vivian Florin Hazel, and Dr. Dewey F. Barech were recognized with Distinguished Alumni Awards.

Registration Began Fall Semester on August 25th

The long trek on the road to a degree began with the endless lines of registration. After wiggling and sneaking in the door, one was faced with a swarm of humanity, all intent on worming their way into various course lines. Some who made up a schedule as they went along seemed to end up with ideal courses; while those who had a schedule planned for weeks had trouble finding enough classes.

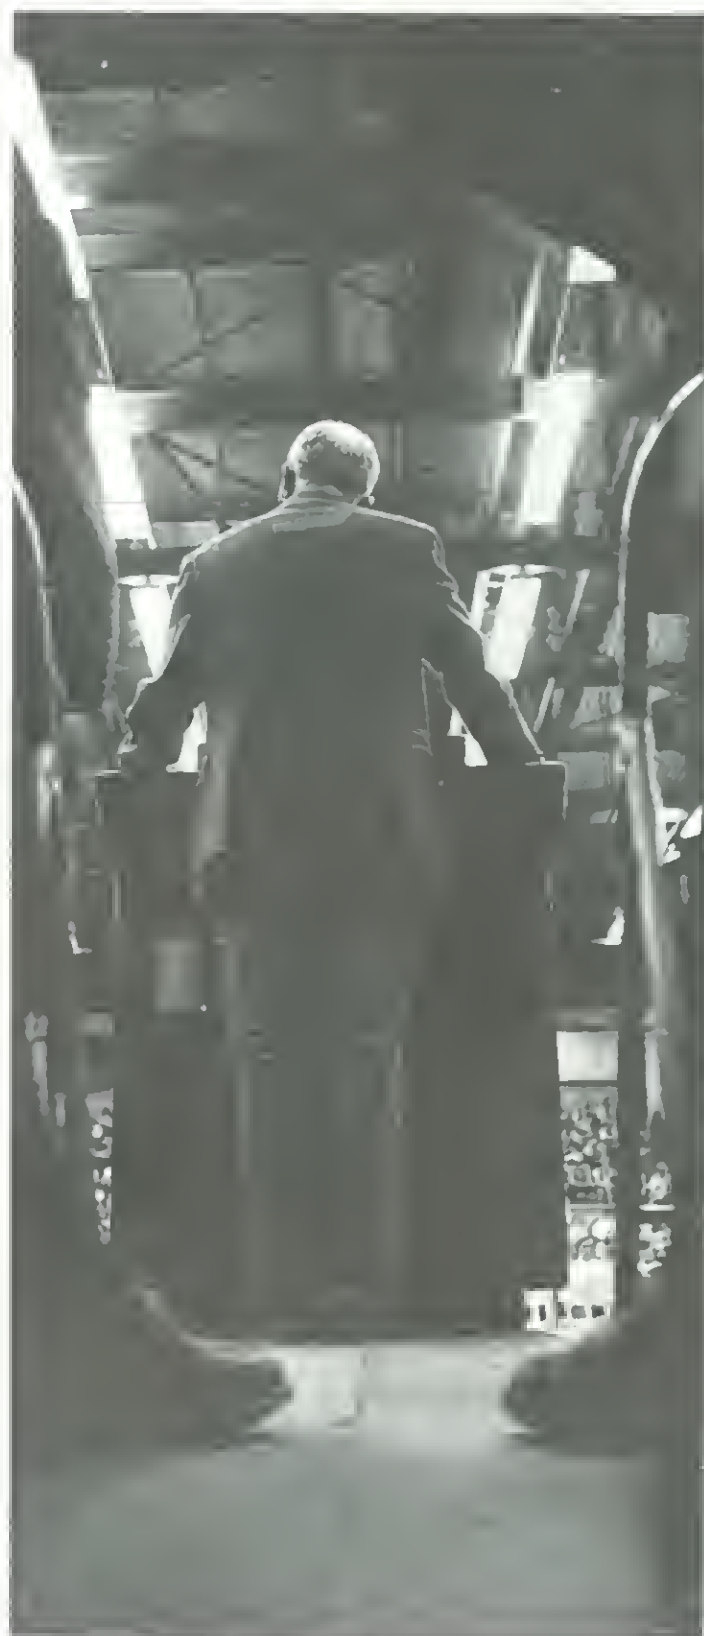

Familiar phrases: "Do you have the prerequisites for this course?"; "Sorry, that section is closed" left the continuing student confused and irritated and the beginning student even more bewildered. So the best part of registration was passing through the final line with a sigh of relief.

At the all-student convocation on September 9, 1971, President William Micheels challenged students to discover and use the best qualities of the conformist and the nonconformist in developing their own personalities. He said: "The question your parents and this University must help you try to answer is how do conformity and nonconformity mesh in the growth of a person. Each of you is a unique person and develops in a unique way; so, you are nonconformists. Yet, you live in communities, in families, in cities, in a country and now in a community of learners — the university. You are conditioned by your past. To this extent you are conformists . . . So it's not the choice between conformity and nonconformity, but the wisest fitting together of the two that helps you grow as a person."

Micheels warned that it is easy to go overboard on either side. He said: "We can demand absolute conformity to a preset pattern of learning, or we can go to the other extreme, leaving every student to himself in a self-created intellectual capsule without challenges, without any sense of belonging to a community, and without any sense of the past that has produced him."

"I think a nonconformist is a person who sees not only the problem, but also the rich possibilities in the present community that could become realities in the future if only he could do something about them. The true nonconformist refuses to conform totally because he is creative, he is never satisfied with himself or with his world because he can fashion a better one . . . The conformist is the one who chooses to be led by a vision that may not be his own, but he values it. Above all, this must be a free choice . . . Conformity like nonconformity is basically a state of mind."

President Micheels ended by telling students that in life they will be both conformist and nonconformist. "You will freely conform to some values you have inherited from the past that are part or parcel of our present culture. But you will also be nonconformists in the sense that you wish to create on the foundation of our present world a better world — a world that is more responsive to human needs."

Local performers Foote and Feet and members of the Jesus Rally provided the Stout community with excellent entertainment at the Pawn.

Performers at the Jesus Rally, sponsored by the combined Christian organizations on campus, expressed themselves with testimonies in words and songs.

Foote and Feet, Maggie Foote and Tom Tanner, began working together in May of 1971 after meeting at the Pawn's Spring Showcase. Maggie provides the vocal while Tom accompanies with guitar and occasional harmony. They communicate in the form of folk and contemporary rock music.

William Kunstler Brought Shocking News of Attica Riots to Stout Community

Civil rights attorney William Kunstler spoke to the University community on September 14, 1971, as part of the Speakers Forum series.

Kunstler spoke about the previous week's unrest at the Attica, New York prison. The prisoners were allowed to negotiate for better prison conditions; but due to the time limit placed on them, they secured prison guards as hostages in an attempt to retain bargaining power. Instead of allowing them additional time to negotiate, state troopers were sent in by the state Corrections Commissioner and Governor to subdue the men. Twenty-six convicts and nine hostages were killed; all of them by the State, and none by the prisoners as was first reported. Kunstler believed that the government became murderers in the interests of political expediency, and charged Governor Nelson Rockefeller with murder for ordering the attack. He felt that if one becomes oblivious to reasonable demands or turns away from them, as the state officials did, then that person is just as monstrous as those who pulled the triggers.

In this case as in others, Mr. Kunstler was defending the rights of dissent and civil disobedience. He pleaded with the Stout audience to join him in continually resisting the oppression of human needs in any way possible.

TOP: Kuntsler expresses many different emotions during his speech.
BOTTOM: The audience, gathered in every area of the fieldhouse, listens to Kuntsler with taciturn attention.

Tainterama Celebration Involved Menomonie Area

Townpeople and college students joined to make the "Tainterama Festival", which was held on the weekend of September 24-26, a big success. A band concert started off the weekend events at Wilson Park, where the Stout Concert Band and members of the Luddington Guard Band joined to entertain the community. Various other events were held, ranging from antique equipment displays to learning how to cook with apples and wine at the Tainter Theatre. A Gay 90's parade marched down Main Street on Sunday with all ages participating. The weekend's events were concluded with a Demolition Derby at the fairgrounds.

Football Team Showed Fine Season Play

Coach Sten Pierce, in his second year at the helm, directed the Hustlin' Bluedevil gridders to their finest season in many years. Stout's team, which finished five and five, was in the thick of contention for the Wisconsin State University Conference Championship throughout the season. Three of five losses were very close and the result of a bad break or a failure to capitalize on a break, which left Stout on the short end.

Individual Achievements Sparked Team Effort

There were no super stars in this year's ball club; everyone worked together as a unit. There were, however, a few individual bright spots: Dan Tentcher set a new career mark in pass reception; Dave Goetzinger was named a W.S.U. Conference Player of the Week; and Steve Fedie set a conference single game passing mark. Jeff Tower was named All Conference Defensive Tackler and special mention went to Ron Berg and Mike Wettstein. The team voted the following: Jeff Towner, Most Valuable Player; John Debee, Most Improved Player; Ron Berg, Best Blocker; Jim Hittman and Rick Henneberry, Best Tacklers; and Randy Gutsch, Rookie of the Year.

The outlook for the 1972 season looks great. With sixteen returning starters, eleven of them experienced juniors, the Bluedevils again should be in the thick of the conference race. Playing their last games in the familiar blue and white were seniors Dave Goetzinger, Roger Goldbach, Gary Kuehl, Jerry Sinz, Dan Tentcher, and Jeff Towner.

Intramural Football Games Developed Teamwork

The 1971 intramural football season did not let its avid fans down. The usual climactic performance was demonstrated by many interested young men in intramural competition. A total of twenty-eight teams competed for their respective league titles. Only four teams were able to make it to tournament play. Out of the four teams, Hotel Hovlid, X-Third Curran Animals, Sig Ep's and Milnes won, came stiff competitors striving for the pride of victory. Milnes Won did just what their name implied and captured the intramural football championship title.

Suspense in Fall Play Held Audience Captive

"Dial 'M' for Murder" opened the University Theatre season on October 7-9 with near record crowds, thanks to the team work of University Theatre. Mr. David Bratt directed, Mr. Noel Falkofske was master builder, and Mr. Terrance Markovich did promotional work. Cast members were: Jerry Zelenka, Terann Medcalf, Jim Radatz, Mike Boll, and Dave Coutts. While Bratt, Falkofske, and the actors were busy putting the play together, Markovich was bent over a typewriter composing unforgettable articles for the Stoutonia and short promos for WVSS, the university radio station. University Theatre was inspired to put on a thriller when in May of last year Free Flicks showed "Wait Until Dark", and it was noticed that in certain high tension scenes five hundred students screamed in unison. Coincidentally, "Dial 'M'" was written by the same author, Frederick Knott, and proved just as suspenseful. It provided the same elements of suspense everyone loves: surprises, tension, and nail-biting.

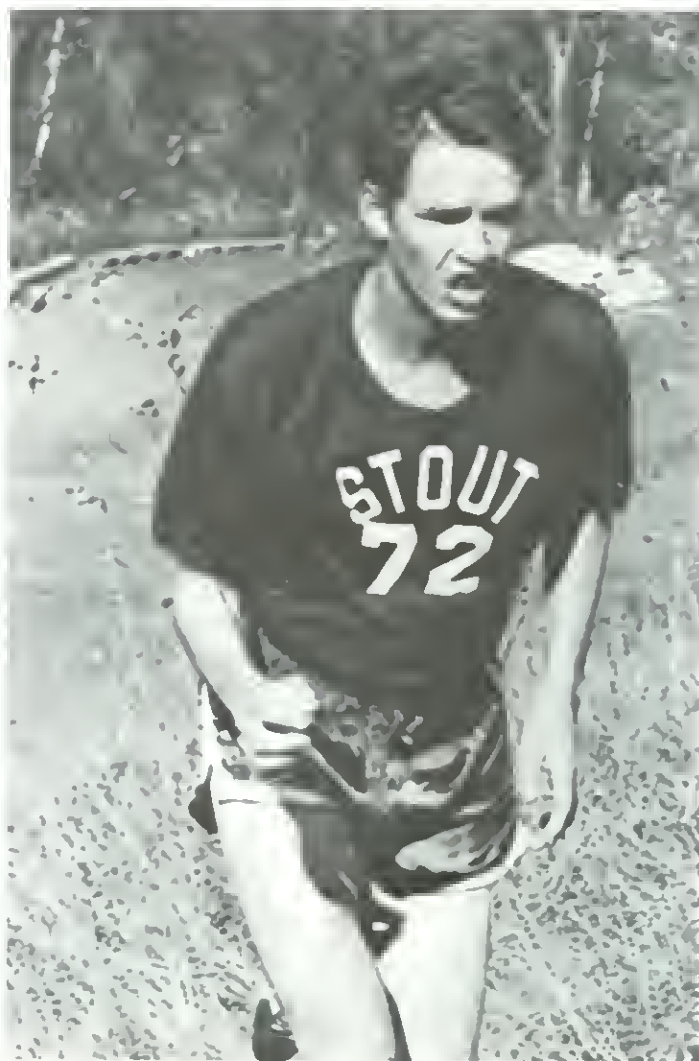

The plot involved an elaborate plan devised by a murderer to condemn an innocent woman as the criminal. There was one twist to the plot, however; the audience was told the complete details of the murder early in the play by the guilty criminal himself. Those who saw the play agreed it was a great season opener, and it provided an exciting evening for everyone.

Cross Country Runners Fared Well in Rugged Conference

The cross country team had a favorable season; they were victorious over conference rivals Eau Claire, River Falls, Superior, and Oshkosh, and a non-conference challenge from Bethel College. LaCrosse and Platteville handed the roadrunners their big defeats as well as finishing one and two ahead of them in the conference meet.

The season was highlighted by individual performances in which John Chartrand proved to be the most valuable runner and Bill Lemsky was voted the team's most improved runner. Barney Klecker was picked as the 1972 team captain.

John Chartrand, Barney Klecker, Bill Lemsky, Bob Sandstrom, Hector Cruz and Mark Gillings led the team to a fourth place finish in the conference as well as the District 14 Cross Country meet.

Head Coach, Doug Stallsmith, will have all but one of his runners back next year, in what promises to be a race to the conference championship.

Homecoming Events Highlighted Fall Season

Homecoming 1971, "Let's Get Together", was a week of fun for all participants. The weeks prior saw preparation of floats, queen contestants, reunions, and other activities. Free Flicks started off the week by showing "Warlord." The events advanced to the Johnson Fieldhouse where the Queens' Convocations and the Battle of the Bands were held. On Saturday there were alumni breakfasts, brunches, and dinners galore. The parade and the football game against LaCrosse were highlights of the afternoon's activities. That evening the Homecoming Ball was held, and pleasant memories were recalled by all.

Nearly 25,000 pints of blood have been collected in Dunn County since the Red Cross Bloodmobile began its program in 1949. The hundreds of students that displayed the button of giving showed the participation of a concerned student body.

"You Know I Can't Hear You When The Water's Running", a modernistic play on sex by Robert Anderson, was one of the biggest hits of the first semester. The three act play was held in Harvey Hall Auditorium on November 11, 12, and 13, with maximum attendance at each performance.

Each act represented different attitudes of society toward sex. The play showed that some people are too shy to talk about sex; and others talk about it freely using morality as their basis.

The time and preparation of the cast and crew made the winter play a smashing hit. Directed by Terrance Markovich, the cast included Steve McIntyre, C. J. Ahonen, Cyndy Sandberg, Dave Hasse, Jon Bjornson, Sandy Coloso, John P. Norgel, Katherine Pederson, Larry Laird, Patti Matosic, and Marge Scheffer.

The second Wakanda-Khana, sponsored by Northern Pines Corvettes, was held on November 14, 1971. Sixty cars of various types from three states, seven auto clubs, and the Stout community competed. The event consisted of a race against-the-clock, twice around the park, one car at a time. Various obstacles were arranged on the course to make it a real test of the drivers' skill and to increase the safety factor. The fastest time of day was recorded by Bob Comstock, of Stout, driving a 1966 Corvette coupe. To complete the day, a party was held with free beer for all participants.

Performing Arts Committee Sponsored Diverse Programs

The Wingra Woodwind Quintet, comprised of music school faculty from the University of Wisconsin in Madison, appeared in concert November 16 at the Harvey Hall Auditorium. The quintet, consisting of a flute, clarinet, oboe, bassoon, and french horn, provided concert-goers with an evening of classical music.

The following evening, the Swing Singers from the Barron County Campus of Stout University presented a program of contemporary entertainment. The concert featured an instrumental accompaniment, and solo vocal parts.

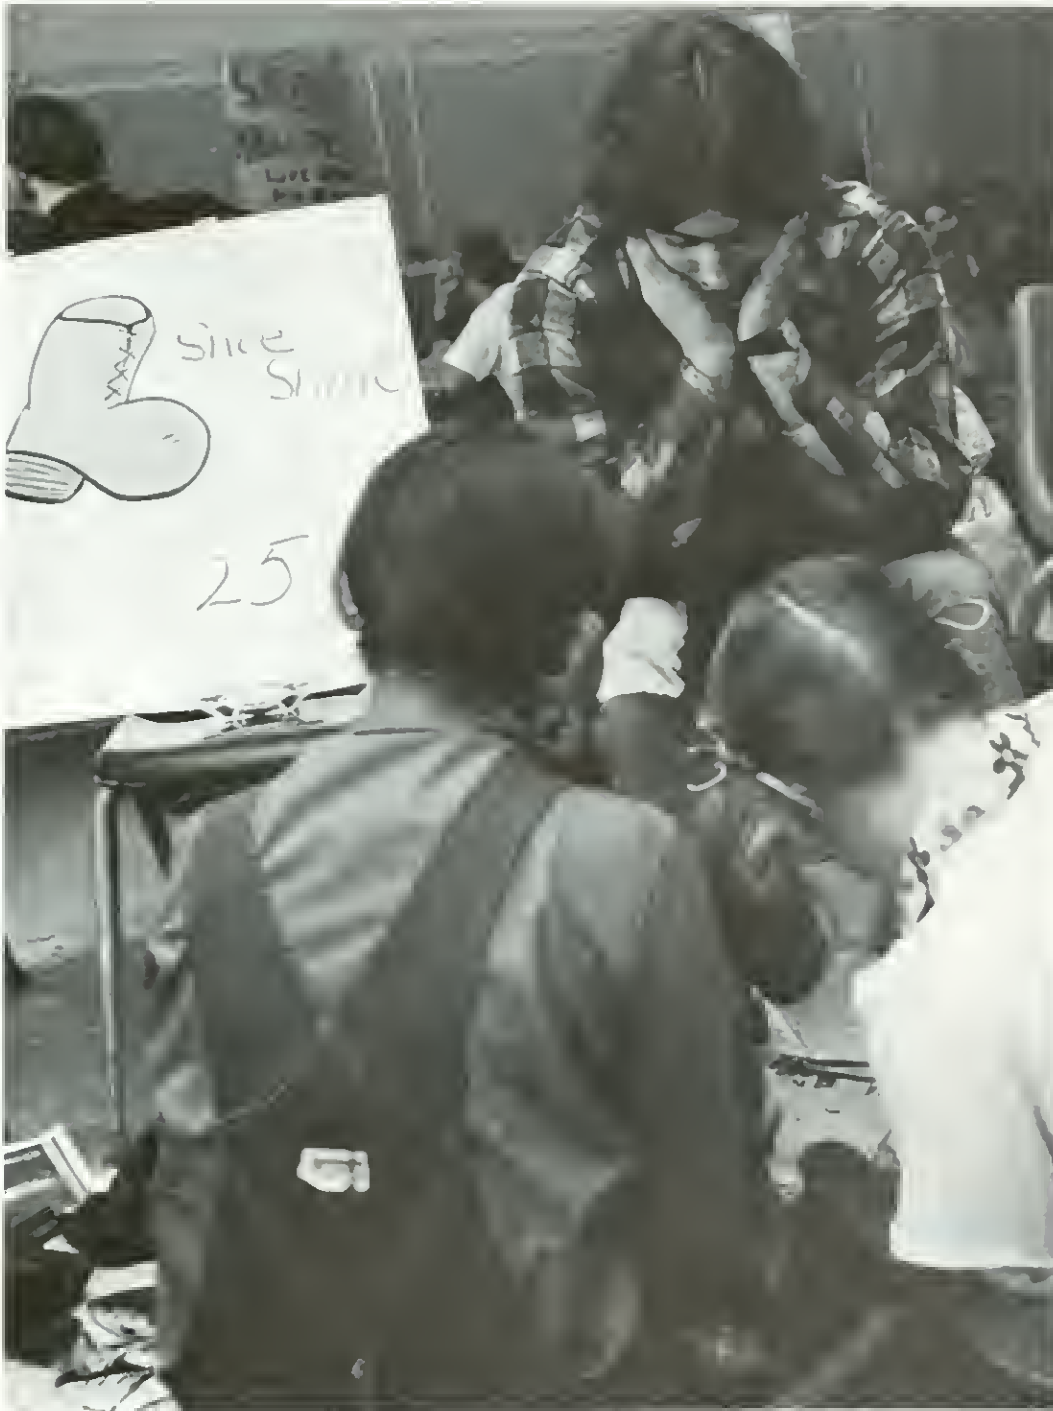

Both programs were under the auspices of the Performing Arts Committee, which also presented James Whitmore in "Will Rogers U.S.A." on November 30 in the Auditorium.

Alpha Sigma Alpha During Sadie

"I want a man!" was the cry of Stout's female population, as Alpha Sigma Alpha's annual Sadie Hawkins Week was celebrated November 30 — December 2. Starting the week off on Tuesday was a Shoe Shine Booth in the Union Snack Bar. On Wednesday night, both couples and singles packed the Villa to dance to Arthur Wheeler's Blues Band. Marryin' Sam was kept busy as the Daisy Maes hauled their Little Abners to the Chapel to get hitched. The men had their chance for revenge on Thursday with the Alpha Sig Jail handling a record crowd all day. As the jail folded up, so did a memorable Sadie Hawkins Week.

The Pawn Offered Varied Forms of Entertainment

The Pawn, Stout's coffehouse, meant different things to different people. Some went there for quiet conversation or thought; some went to study; some went for enjoyment. Many went to take advantage of the entertainment provided throughout the year. It was also the half-way point where students and faculty could meet and exchange ideas on an informal basis.

Whatever the reason, the Pawn provided an atmosphere of relaxation. For solitude or for interaction, the Pawn was a place to find meaning and enjoyment in a busy campus life.

Forensics Contest Drew Large Assemblage

The annual forensics tournament, held on December 4, brought forty schools from nine states to Stout. Some of Stout's students participated; however, most were concerned with the efficient supervision of the activities.

Participants met to be welcomed by Stout's forensics association and forensics fraternity, Pi Kappa Delta, the sponsoring groups for the meet.

Each student then participated in three rounds of competition, each consisting of a specific group of students speaking for a set period of time on a topic in their area of interest. They were then critiqued, given points, and ranked. Judges for these events were visiting coaches from the participating schools, as well as Stout faculty members.

The closing session was a noon dinner held in the ballroom of the Union, with entertainment provided by Chuck Groene while the results were being tabulated. Eau Claire received the highest number of sweepstakes points and so was awarded the first place team trophy.

Joyous Mood of Christmas Celebrated at Annual Concert

Santa Claus was the highlight of the annual Christmas concert held in the Fieldhouse on December 5. The Symphonic Singers and the Concert Band joined together to entertain and set the mood for the holidays. The band and choir chose a selection of numbers that was appropriate to the Christmas season, as well as songs that could be enjoyed throughout the year. The audience participated in a sing-along, and the children there were thrilled and overjoyed when Santa Claus arrived to make the day worthwhile for those in attendance.

The Hustlin' Bluedevils, guided by Coach Dwain Mintz, finished their 1971-72 season with an impressive 18-5 record. In conference play, Stout finished in third place with a conference mark of 12-4, one game behind Whitewater at 13-3, with Eau Claire's first place record at 16-0.

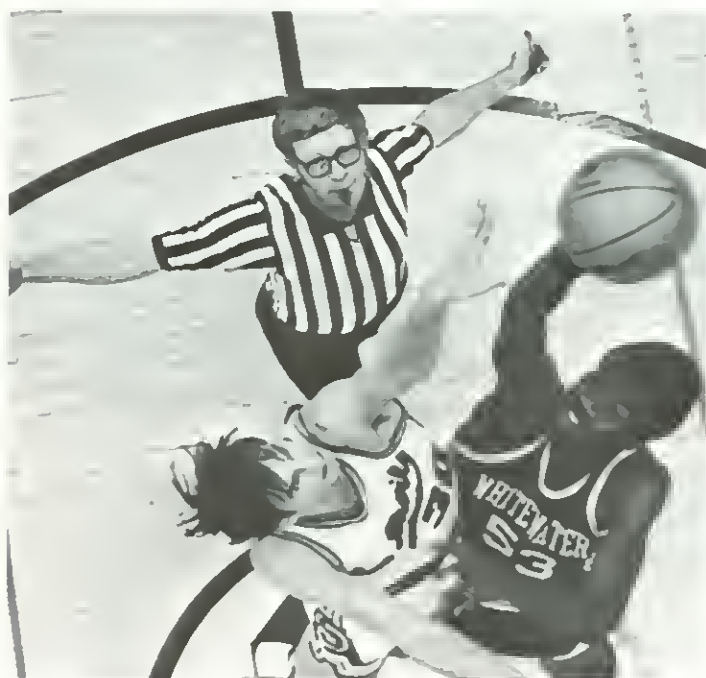

The first place winner was decided in the last game of the season when the Bluedevils traveled to Eau Claire and dropped a last second 65-64 contest to the nation's number one small college basketball team.

The Bluedevils started the season strong by winning eleven of their first twelve games, including ten straight. The second half of the season provided more worthy opponents as the Devils limped through with seven wins and four losses. However, three losses came by a total of only four points.

Stout set three conference records: Fewest Points Allowed — 46, against LaCrosse; Widest Winning Margin — 50 points, against Superior; and Most Assists — 35, also against Superior.

Enthusiasm Expressed by Large Turnout at Games

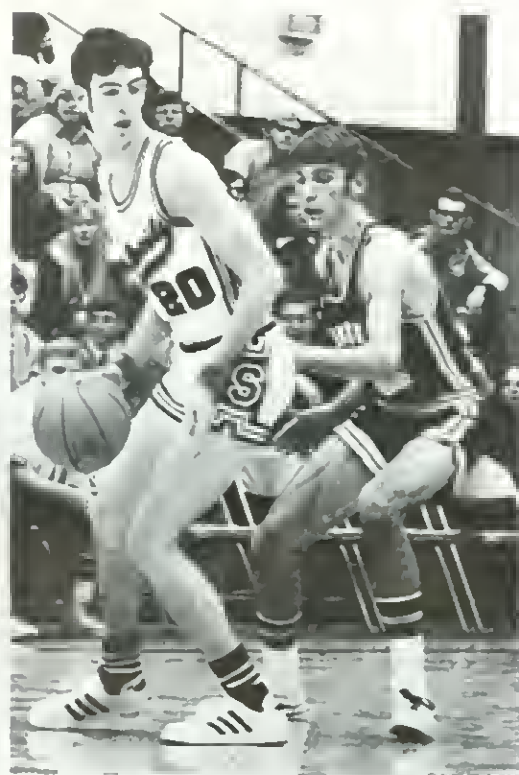

Senior forward Terry Alexa led the Bluedevils in scoring with a 14.4 game average. He repeated last year's performance by being named to the all-conference team. Rob Heiman, a senior guard, was also an all-conference selection. Heiman was the Bluedevil's floor leader, making 99 assists and averaging 11.7 points per game. Other graduating senior team members were Jack Capelle and Rick Biancardi.

One Act Plays Performed at Quarter Square Theater

The Quarter Square Theater was the scene of two one-act plays presented December 9-10.

The play "Overtones" was an amusing episode showing two sophisticated women struggling to restrain their impulsive, insistent inner selves from each other. The women were played by Kim Nezworski and Chris Gross, and their inner selves by Rita Michelin and Joanne McEntire.

In a more somber mood, the play "Krapp's Last Tape", portrayed James Klancer as old man Krapp making his customary yearly tape. But listening to an old tape made thirty years earlier brought back memories of his young energetic days that disgusted him. Finding that he had no more "fire" left in him, Krapp presented a situation similar to that of many people.

Posting a record of eleven wins and one loss, the Bluedevil swimming team, under the direction of Coach Bob Smith, swam to their best season ever.

The young Bluedevils put forth a great effort in the conference meet by scoring over 100 points more than last year's second place winning team. However, the blue and white tankers again finished in second place close behind champion Eau Claire.

Coach Smith will again have a strong nucleus to work with next year. Graduating from this year's team were John Malecki, Paul Milinovich, Mark Thompson, and Eric Friest.

Foreign Policy Criticized; Gospel Presented in Song

The American death toll had reached fifty-five thousand in the undeclared war in Vietnam, when former Senator Wayne Morse spoke at Stout on December 13. The past senator from Oregon said that the President "has only the power to act as Commander-in-Chief in a war declared by Congress", and warned that the expansion of presidential power is the most dangerous issue facing the American public today. Morse, who has been an outspoken force in America for nearly forty years, stated that "the check of the purse strings" has long been needed to end American death in Vietnam.

The Keystones, a gospel singing group, brought a happier message to Stout on December 18. Sponsored by local businessmen, the concert was open to campus and community. Some of the songs were older than the combined ages of the group members; but, judging from the warm audience response, the message of the songs themselves was as new as anything on the Top 40 Survey. Certainly, the gospel songs will still be sung after many of the performers have been forgotten. The Keystones have grown in popularity with the recent increased interest in the gospel movement.

Popularity of Local Rock Group Became Widespread

Tongue formed in the fall of 1968 as a frat party good-time band. The group practiced in Hovlid Hall, HKM, and CKT for the first year of its existence, because its members lived in the dorms.

The group began experimenting with original music, and by the fall of 1970 had recorded and released a 45 rpm record and their album, "Keep on Truckin' ", on their own Hemisphere Records label. As a result of the album, the group toured with the James Gang and played backup to over 30 nationally recognized rock groups.

The group, presently made up of Robert Collins, Richard Weber, Michael Larson, and Paul Rabbitt, has another album done and are awaiting its release. Tongue has always considered Stout and Menomonie as its home and has had some of its best gigs on the campus.

Gymnastics Team Showed Strength and Muscle Coordination

The gymnastics team, due to the loss of three men during the season, "were weak as a team but very strong individually", according to Coach John Zuerlein. The team had a 4 win-3 loss conference record and a 5-9 overall record. In the conference meet Stout finished fifth, but was the only team in which every man that entered qualified for the finals and received a medal.

The highlight of the season was the breaking of three school records. Both Mike Zissman, senior co-captain, and junior Tim Kruse broke the still ring record. Larry Bossung crumpled the side horse record, and the still ring team of Kruse, Zissman, and Greg Dattilo combined for a new ring team score.

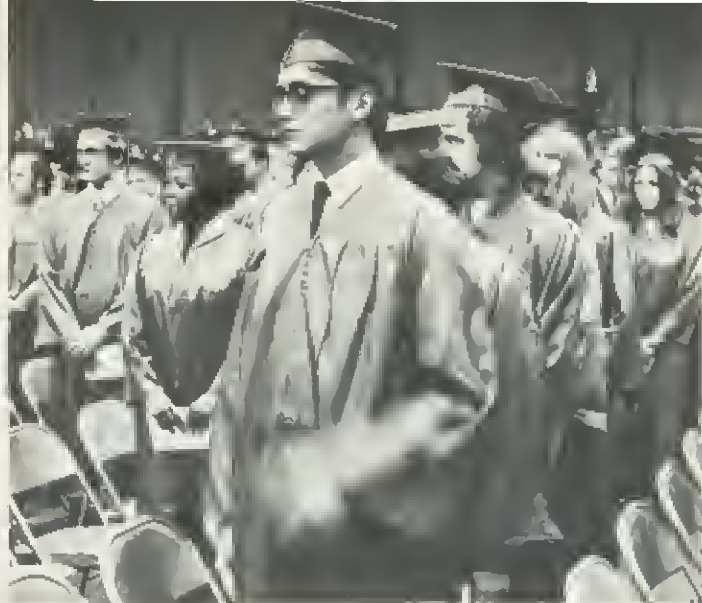

Stout was represented at the NAIA Championships in Charleston, Illinois by Kruse, Zissman, Dattilo, and John Mueller.

Winter Graduation Held Before Christmas Vacation

300 persons received diplomas at Winter Commencement Exercises held December 23, 1971. For the first time, winter graduation was held before Christmas vacation, under the new uniform calendar adopted by eight of the nine former state universities.

Addressing the graduates were faculty member, Dr. M. James Bensen, and Student, Dennis W. Allar. As part of the ceremonies, Alma G. Rausch and Harvard C. Smith received Distinguished Alumni Awards for their continuing outstanding work in their respective fields.

In his first year at the helm of Stout's hockey team, John McNamara bettered the Bluedevils' mark of 7-12-1 from the previous year. The skating Bluedevils closed out their third year of intercollegiate competition with a respectable record of nine wins and eleven losses.

In the highlight of their season, the Bluedevils knocked off their archrival, River Falls, with a score of 7-5. According to Coach McNamara, it was the finest team effort his squad had displayed all year.

Jim Ciulla, a senior center, broke a school record by scoring five goals in one game. His performance came in a 7-2 victory over Rochester State.

Graduating from this year's team were Jay Watkins, Don Hermes, Lynn Skeeter, Jim Ciulla and Glenn La-Chapelle. They will be missed, but Coach McNamara has a balanced team returning with which to provide keen competition.

Differing Activities and Competition Were Available

Throughout the week, teams of greek and dormitory organizations competed in races to demonstrate their laughing, lying, running, and other abilities.

With the crowning of Sue Nass as queen on Friday evening, a night of carnival gaiety was opened. The Union was alive with "carney" games in the Ballroom. Alfonso's Jug Band performed in the Pawn, while the Snack Bar overflowed with dancers and observers who listened to and watched a musical conglomeration of Short Stuff, Tongue, and Swallow.

The annual broomball games, held Saturday afternoon at Wilson Park, had their quota of broken brooms, bruised shins, and toasting victors. That evening's Sno Ball Dance in the Snack Bar, and the Jug Band in the Pawn, made an unusual combination of evening wear, and hand clapping and foot stomping.

Sunday's Alfresco Ice Races featured cold feet, "Boone's Farm", and sore throats, but also trophies and excitement, to bring another year's events to a close.

Stout Keglers Rolled Into First Place

Stout's keglers rolled their way to the Wisconsin State University Conference Bowling Championship with a final standing of 302. The 1971 team lost only one match in the championship to Superior, and beat LaCrosse, their second place rival, by a splendid show of 12-3.

The team consisted of four steady bowlers: Jim Discher, Ross Daniels, Rich Pasyak, and Jeff Roozen; and a back-up man, Dave Drew. The team lost two seniors, Jim Discher and Ross Daniels, both great assets. Rich Pasyak and Jeff Roozen will be returning next year to give Stout's team a firm start. Dave Drew, the back-up man, will also be returning to aid the bowlers.

The intramural program was organized so that an individual, a group of individuals, or a unit could participate. Men's units competed for an All Sports trophy.

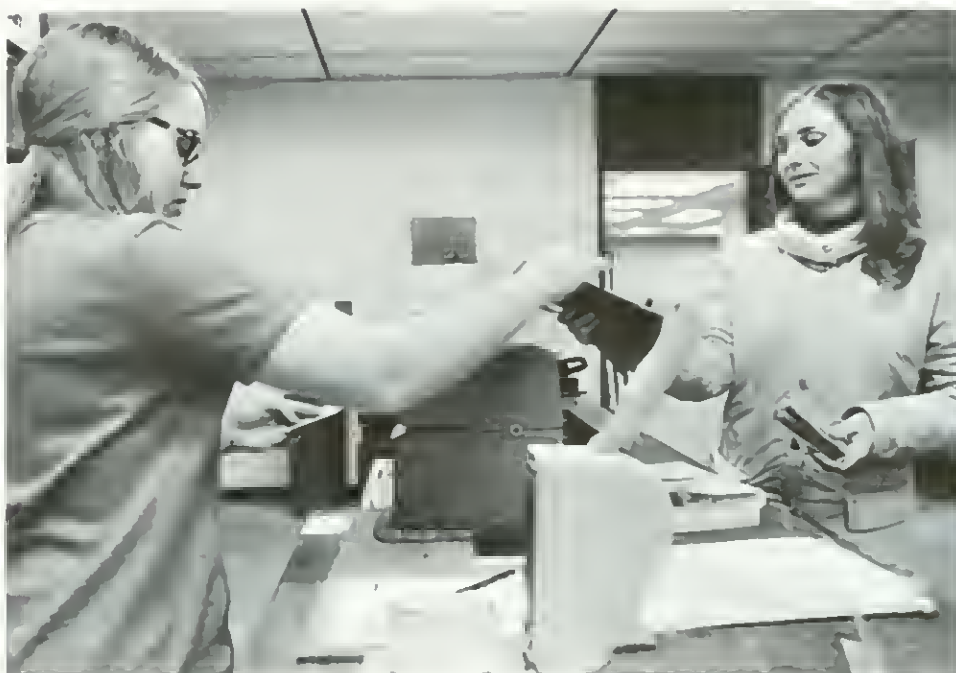

The United Black Brothers took the men's basketball championship over 60 other teams. Out of the 50 teams participating in volleyball, the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity won the trophy. Sam Chin, playing for the winning team, the Ballers, won the intramural badminton tournament by placing first among 61 participants. Among the 68 competing swimmers, the Smokin team came out on top. The Kappa Lambda Beta Fraternity took top honors in the wrestling tournament.

Women's intramurals started with softball, but their biggest sport was volleyball. The United Black Sisters walked away with the trophy. The basketball championship was won by the Rolf Cats. Badminton was a one-night tournament. Out of seven participants, Barb Kach took first.

The last winter activity was co-ed volleyball, which proved to be a huge success. Teams consisted of three members of each sex. The Rusty Zippers won the championship.

Working under an HEW federal community drug education program, Concerned has reached out into the area through projects with schools, teachers, and civic organizations: offering counseling and referral services.

Distinguished State Officials Related Views to Stout Community

Vern Thomson, incumbent Congressman from the third Congressional District, spoke to students February 14 in the Student Center. Congressman Thomson reflected on a number of political areas. He believed that Nixon has done all he can to end the war and has gone more than the extra mile to achieve peace. He felt that most critics of the President do not fully recognize this. Regarding amnesty concerning the Indo-China war, Thomson was firmly opposed to granting it to American expatriates while American prisoners are still held by the North Vietnamese. He explained that this would be an injustice to those who have served in Vietnam. The Congressman felt it was necessary to have Federal involvement in setting pollution standards because the environmental project is so immense. Those in the Ballroom were also quite interested in Thomson's bill lengthening veterans' school benefits to more than 36 months, a much needed bill to help veterans who seem to be left in unemployment lines after returning from military duty.

Wisconsin Governor Patrick Lucey conducted a rap session with students, faculty, and townspeople on February 18 in the Ballroom. The question of the 18 year legal age was of main interest. At that time Governor Lucey said it would be passed within thirty days. Speaking against the Vietnam war and the issue of amnesty, Lucey said it was unfair to "impose penalties on young people who also felt the war was wrong and refused to be a part of it." The Governor felt that after the war was over the question of amnesty could better be dealt with. Lucey stated he could not legalize marijuana at the present time but felt that reduced penalties for possession was a step forward for the state. Concerning prison reform, Lucey stated that Wisconsin's penal system is the "best in the country, and still in need of reform." Regarding abortion reforms, the Governor told students that court tests were preventing the legislature from passing anti-abortion laws.

The morning opened with an address by Dr. Robert Worthington, Associate Commissioner for Vocational, Technical and Adult Education, HEW Office of Education, Washington, D.C. He spoke on "Redirecting Guidance and Counseling: A Top Priority of Career Education." Dr. Elizabeth Simpson, Special Assistant to the Associate Commissioner, then addressed the conference on "Career Education — Feminine Version", giving her views on the problems and issues of career education for women.

A special session was held over the noon hour with Dr. Barbara Thompson of the state Department of Public Instruction speaking. The afternoon general session convened to hear Dr. John Weaver, President of the University of Wisconsin system, speak on "Rendezvous with Destiny."

Over 2000 classroom teachers, counselors, administrators, education personnel, and other related career personnel attended 80 sectional meetings held throughout the day on various phases of the theme.

Stout Highlighted WSUC Wrestling Tournament

With the steady performances of two outstanding grapplers, Coach Sten Pierce's 1971-72 wrestling team managed a respectable finish among Wisconsin State University Conference opponents.

Senior Hector Cruz and junior Dale Evans each began the season with the intention of repeating a third straight conference title win.

Cruz and Evans both advanced to the championship matches in their respective 118 and 134 weight classes; but Cruz, slowed by recurring injuries, was beaten by Jerry Reeves of Platteville. Evans, however, was able to repeat past performances by pinning his opponent, Keith Morin of La Crosse, in 57 seconds; thus becoming only the fourth man in the Wisconsin State University Conference history to win three straight titles.

Cruz and Evans both went to the NAIA tournament held in Klamath Falls, Oregon. Cruz pinned his first opponent but was forced out of competition on the second match with an arm dislocation. Evans continued on and brought home a fourth place trophy.

Upon the graduation of Cruz, Stout's wrestling hopes will lie on the shoulders of Dale Evans.

Deaf Students Performed Poetic Selections in Sign Language

An enriching, unique educational experience was brought to Stout by eighteen deaf students from the St. Paul Technical Vocational Institute in the form of a drama workshop on February 28.

The selections which the deaf students performed were done in poetic sign language with beauty, grace and precision. Stout students active in the sign language class offered at Stout also participated in the program. They performed the "Lord's Prayer" in sign language.

The TVI students were brought to Stout in cooperation with the Vocational Rehabilitation Department Chairman Paul Hoffman, Dr. Donn Brolin, and Mr. Henry Redkey.

Problems and Policies Discussed by Speakers

Dr. Mounir Zahran addressed Stout students and faculty on March 8 in the Student Center Ballroom. The Egyptian ambassador to the United States was sponsored by the International Relations Club, and spoke concerning the Middle East crisis. A former practicing attorney at law in Cairo, Dr. Zahran joined the V.A.R. diplomatic service in 1958, and has held the post of Chief U.N. Technical Assistant to the V.A.R. In 1968, he was selected by the United Nations to participate on a committee to study the major problems of the U.N.

Henry Viscardi has been described by Reader's Digest as "living proof of his own conviction that no one, however handicapped, should ever stop hoping and trying and achieving." On April 13, he was honored with a Distinguished Service Award at a banquet sponsored by Stout's Department of Rehabilitation and Manpower Services. Speaking at the banquet, he stressed the needs of the young child and of all handicapped people. Viscardi was born without legs; and is the founder and president of Abilities Incorporated, a Long Island concern made up entirely of disabled people. He is also a member of the President's Committee for the Physically Handicapped. Author of seven books, Viscardi has been widely praised and honored for his contributions to business, medicine, and government.

A platoon of Stout's students and faculty pooled their talent, energy and resources to stage the University Theatre's production of "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown!" on March 2-4.

Six small (the more diminutive the better) students demonstrated that size is not what makes the actor in the spring play's three day run in Harvey Hall Auditorium.

The warm actors did not take over the characters; they simply brought them to life, complete with foibles, fancies, insights, and wishy-washy Charlie Brown. Portraying the delightful characters were James Radatz, J. Ethan Hardacker, Orrin Maki, Joanne McEntire, Sparky Lammer, and Jerome Zelenka. Director was Terrence Markovich, with musical direction by Gerald Myers.

Fake Money Flowed During Night at Capone's Casino

On Saturday evening, March 4, a motley crew of mobsters took over the Union Snackbar and brought the wheels of chance into the temple of learning, as "Capone's Casino" opened for business. Fortunes were made and lost, all in counterfeit script hot off the Stout graphic arts presses.

At the night's end, flappers cheered as the Inter-Residence Hall Council Gang, sponsors for the Casino, took the money back from their patrons in an auction. Inflation was the word, as Carole King's "Tapestry" album went for a funny $800,000.00. Perhaps due to a twinge of conscience, the IRHC people agreed to pay for the night's entertainment, furnished by "Air Borne", with real green stuff.

University Systems Merged; President Micheels Retired

With the merging of the University of Wisconsin and the Wisconsin State University systems, the new official names of the Universities were established at the meeting of the Board of Regents on November 5, 1971.

Stout State University became the University of Wisconsin — Stout. Upholding a tradition which began in 1891, Stout's name remained as a tribute to its founder. All the other schools in the University system were named according to location.

John Weaver, who had been President of the University of Wisconsin for a year, was chosen unanimously by the Board to head the newly merged system. Wisconsin became the third largest educational system in the nation.

A decade has passed since William Micheels was inaugurated as President of Stout State College. On March 13, Micheels was honored at Stout's Decade of Progress Dinner, as retiring Chancellor of the University of Wisconsin — Stout. The banquet was also in honor of Eugene McPhee, former Director of the system, for his service to the field of higher education in Wisconsin. Attending the banquet were alumnae, faculty members of Stout and the Barron County Campus, Chancellors of other Wisconsin Universities, Regents, a State Representative, townspeople, and several students. Following the dinner, entertainment was provided by the Swing Singers of the Barron County Campus and the Stout Symphonic Singers. The audience then moved to Harvey Hall to be transported from the present to the past by way of a multi-media presentation of Stout's history, and the music and the sounds of the times.

Dr. Nelva Runnals, chairman of the faculty senate, expressed the feeling of all when she referred to Dr. Micheels as "a president of an open door and an open mind."

Women's Varsity Sports Encouraged Teamwork

Chris Zampach coached the 1972 women's basketball team to a final standing of six wins and ten losses. The young team of twelve members had only one graduating senior, Chris Albertson. Performing with enthusiasm, the team proved that women can play an exciting game of basketball. Toby Boden was named Most Valuable Player, while Ann Storck was the possessor of the Most Improved Player Award. Most Inspirational Team Member Award went to Chris Albertson.

Women's volleyball closed their season with a record of seven wins and eleven losses. The last games were played at the regional tournament at Superior. The team lost the first two matches, but came back in the final match to win over Eau Claire. Coach Chris Zampach remarked that the match against Eau Claire was the best game the team had ever played. Connie Braeger, sophomore and team captain, was voted the Most Valuable Player; while Julie Lenz, freshman, was named Most Inspirational.

Individual Talents Developed Through Women's Sports

The women's varsity swim team closed their season with the state conference at Eau Claire. Although the team placed seventh in the meet, there were several excellent individual performances. Coach Rita McKinley stated that the two outstanding swimmers were Marcy Sirotkin and Martha Heinmann, both freshmen. Marcy placed third in the 50-yard breast stroke and fifth in the 100-yard breast stroke. Martha took second in the 50-yard freestyle and sixth in the individual medley. Martha was chosen as the team's Most Valuable Swimmer. She contributed 88 3/4 points to the team's score for the season.

Gymnastics coach Kay Carter had talent to work with as her team members brought state awards home. Margaret Keyes was awarded a bronze medal in vaulting and was also named Most Valuable Gymnast, repeating last year's performance. Marcy Lindberg received a fourth place balance beam award, while Carol Parkinson captured a bronze medal in beginning vaulting.

Stunt Night Held Captive Audience for 25th Year

Stout's annual Stunt Night, sponsored by the Phi Omega Beta Fraternity since 1947, was held March 16-18 in Harvey Hall Auditorium. It consisted of short skits put together by organizations and dorms. The FOBs provided the emcees, the between act fillers, and the backstage help.

Winning first place in the Humorous division was the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity with their version of the Lawrence Welk Show. First place in the Beautiful division went to Alpha Phi with "I Believe In Music". The Best Individual Talent Award was won by John Jacob of the Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity.

Stunt Night provided wholesome and enjoyable entertainment, with proceeds going to the Jerry Erickson Scholarship Fund.

Presidential Hopefuls Campaigned in Menomonie

New York Mayor John Lindsay made a brief stop in Menomonie on February 19 on his campaign route to Miami. Lindsay drew a large crowd to the Marion Hotel and offered them a short inspirational pep talk. He stressed the need for a change in our present government. "Taxpayers are not getting an equal return for the amount of taxes being paid. The taxes are not getting back to the source," he stated. Present allocation of taxes, said Lindsay, went to Lockheed (who received a $250 billion welfare check), an obsolete missile system, obsolete highways, and senseless killings in Vietnam. Mayor Lindsay also stressed the growing United States deterioration abroad and at home due to present wasteful governmental policies. "Unemployment, poverty, and racial discrimination — regardless of present administration policies — are still large problems," felt the Mayor.

Senator George McGovern's attitude toward the Vietnam war was the spark that drew several hundred students to the Student Union Ballroom on March 23 to hear him speak. He announced his intention to stop the war on Inauguration Day, should he be elected President. McGovern spoke of working toward a "humane, just, peaceful future for the United States." He called for the resolution that "never again will we let the young men of the United States die for corrupt foreign governments." According to the Senator, a President should never advocate a course of action behind closed doors which he cannot explain to the people; and neither should a President be afraid to say a mistake was made — and then correct it. McGovern's campaign speech included his views on other issues pertinent to the Presidential race. Senator McGovern won the Wisconsin Democratic primary on April 4, collecting 29 per cent of the vote.

The original musical farce, "Rock-a-bye Your Own Monster, Baby!" was performed April 20-22 in the Quarter Square Little Theatre in the basement of Harvey Hall. "Rock-a-bye" was written by Noel Falkofske of the Speech Department, and was directed by his wife, Karen.

This one-act musical farce depicted life in an experimental cage in a computerized society 227 years from now. Life in "Cage 32" included performing songs and dances from bygone eras.

Richard Dopson played the role of Peter, an activist in a cowboy outfit, recently ordered into the cage. Rita Michelin was Tallulah, a discarded mistress of high government officials. The Kernel, a former inventor of food pills, was played by Richard Bruhn. Chiquita Lolita was a genetic accident, depicted by Mary Perry.

Musical numbers included some old favorites, and some written especially for the show. Special oddities included Bill Sandberg and Joe Miller as two enormous Jolly Greens who did ballet dances, Rick Sissel and Dan Meyers as the Screaming Meanies who punished the cast with giant clubs, and Nancy Gurn as a giggling Mother Nature who dispensed all sorts of "goodies."

Publications Recorded History of School Year

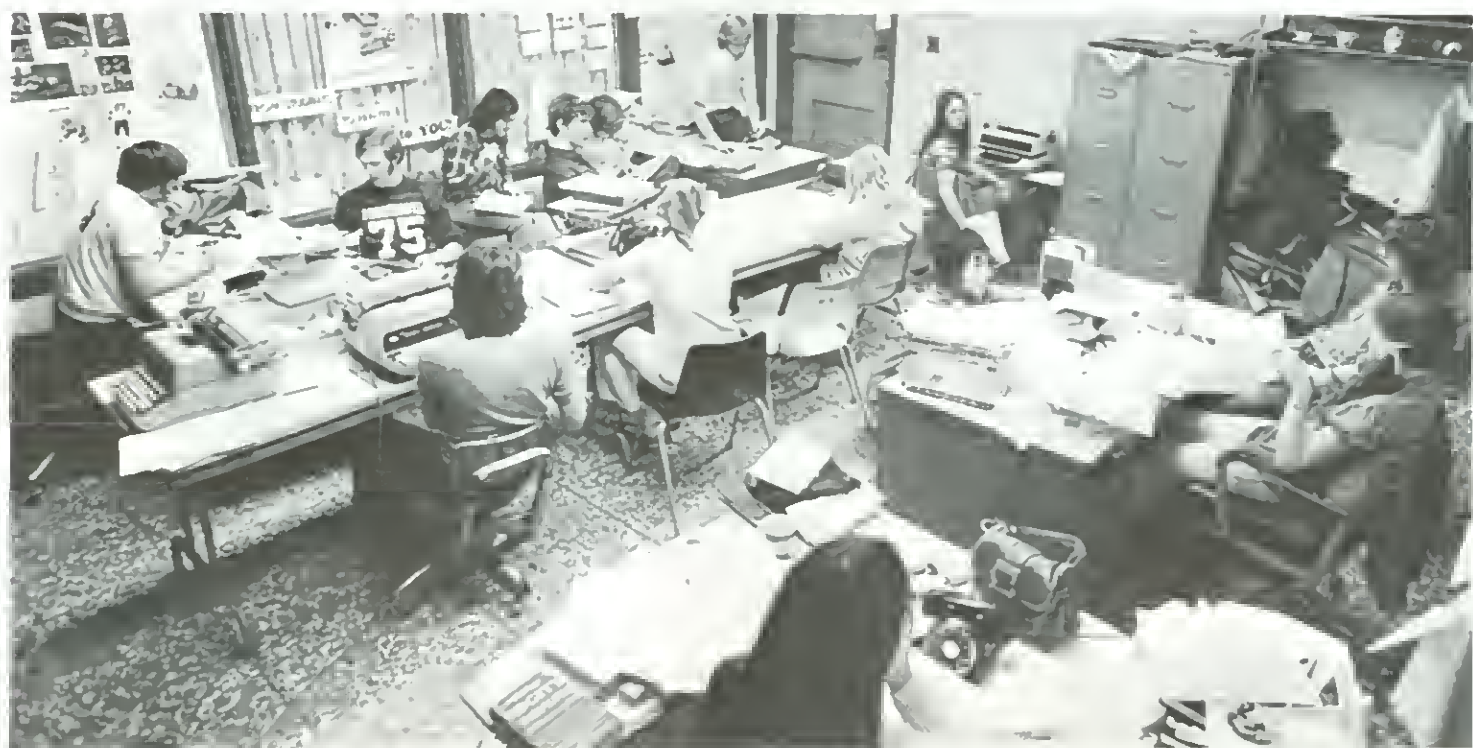

Distributed weekly, the Stoutonia newspaper was edited for and by Stout students. Writing stories, selling ads, and applying layout and design techniques were among the duties performed by the staff. They learned the different methods of a paper's preparation for printing and distribution. The Stoutonia stimulated involvement and awareness on campus by covering events which directly affected all students.

Though the 1972 Tower had a shaky start due to an SSA budget hassle and an irrelevant relevancy question, also from SSA, it emerged as a unique product of new ideas and innovations. The book's format was arranged in two distinct parts; a chronological picture of the school's events from summer school to spring graduation; and a group photo section including organizations, classes, sports teams, and faculty. The opening section set the theme for the book by depicting life at Stout and Menomonie; first over many years, and then over the four seasons of one year.

Because of the school's early closing date, and the inclusion of the entire year's events in the book, it was printed over the summer and distributed at the beginning of the 1972-73 school year.

The Legislative Division, the Activities Division, and the Judicial Division of the Stout Student Association held all student governing responsibilities. Every student at Stout was a member of SSA, and could hold a position in any division. During the 1972 year, SSA helped to set up beer on campus on a one-year trial basis. It began "What's Happening" on WVSS, a program including discussions relevant to campus affairs. A research committee was formed to investigate the problem of bomb scares on campus. A copy machine was made available for student use in the Student Center; and an entertainment reciprocity program was set up with the Eau Claire and River Falls campuses. The SAA also conducted a voter registration drive; and approved several new associated campus organizations.

In the 1966-67 school year, a project was approved by the Speech Department and the State University System in response to a student demand for a campus radio outlet. The basement locker facilities of the former Central Elementary School were remodeled into a modern radio facility; equipment was purchased; and the first test broadcasts were held in the spring of 1970. The next year, regular broadcast days were established and a staff recruitment drive was carried out. In the past year, WVSS expanded its staff size and its broadcast week; and added an educational program. Also new were remote broadcasts of sports and public events.

Stout's track team, which gained a share of the title of the 1972 Wisconsin State University Conference track championship for the first time in the school's history, scored in 11 of the 18 conference events. LaCrosse, who grabbed the Indoor Conference and the Conference Relay titles, was favored to win the Outdoor Conference title also, but saw Stout come all the way up from a seventh place finish last year to tie for the title.

Senior Jules Butcher, who won the Most Valuable and Outstanding Player Awards, a repeat of last year, was the only triple jump winner in the conference. A victory leap of 45' 2½" set a school record. Bill Lemsky, who accounted for ten points for the Bluedevils, placed second in the three mile run, breaking his own school record. The 440 yard relay team of Burwell, Harris, Zellmer, and Butcher, with their speed and perfect handoffs, accelerated to a first place victory.

All of the 1972 track team showed an excellent effort. Junior Mark Burwell was voted Honorary Captain, the second year in a row that he has received that honor. The Most Improved Athlete award went to senior Ken Kranz, for his sincere dedication throughout four years on the squad.

Stout's Diamond Men Evened Conference Score

Warm weather finally blessed the baseball team on the last day of the 1972 conference schedule. The diamond men won their last two games, allowing their conference record to break even at 8-8, with an overall record of 12-19. The season closed with a pair of wins over the Platteville Pioneers, 14-4 and 10-6. The young team displayed good pitching and allround fine performances throughout the season.

The Most Valuable Player title was awarded to junior Russ Flanigan. Senior Dan Waldvogel was named Best Defensive Player for a repeat of last year's award. Tom Spiedel received the Most Improved honor and Gary Buckley was Stout's Rookie of the Year.

Wisconsin Idea Theatre Expressed Indians' View

On April 17 in Harvey Hall, the Wisconsin Idea Theatre presented the play "A Gentle Smoke Signal." Sponsored by Native American Awareness, the play was a multimedia exploration of the relationships between the Indian and the white man.

The hour-long presentation was composed of a series of skits, slides, tapes, and live music. The purpose of the play was to make the audience aware of the feelings of the American Indian, as well as the problems resulting from the white man's invasion of the country and culture which was once theirs.

41 teams vied for the softball championship. The Chicago Clubs walked away with the trophy.

Teams accumulated points for the All Sports Trophy throughout the entire year. The winning team, Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, took the trophy with 1100 points, while Milnes Won was close behind with 1034 points.

Formal Dinner Served

Stout's Haute Cuisine, or formal eating, classes presented an "International Passport" dinner on April 22 in the Ballroom of the Student Center. The dinner, lasting seven hours, consisted of fifteen courses of gourmet delicacies from around the world. The gourmet delight attracted eighty-six distinguished guests from Indiana, Chicago, New York, and the Twin Cities, as well as the local area.

Planning for the $30 per couple dinner began before Christmas. Normally the cost would be $125 per couple, but because students performed the labor and because the wine, silver, china, and crystal were donated, the price was reduced to an amount which barely met expenses. Mr. Joe King of the downtown Minneapolis Radisson Hotel contributed the silver, china, and crystal; while Great Western Wines of New York furnished the wine.

The successful dinner received many compliments, including one from the Chicago Tribune Food Editor, who said it was one of the finest dinners she had ever had.

Comedy-Tragedy Portrayed Complexities of Life

Edna St. Vincent Millay's one act play "Aria de Capo" was presented in the Quarter Square Theatre on April 27-28 with two showings nightly. Director of the production was Steve McIntyre.

The play covered all the complexities of life, within a medieval setting. Troubadours opened the play, which began as a comedy. It was suddenly interrupted by a group of tragedy players. This play took its inevitable course; and the comedians returned, overlooking the tragedy that had just taken place. The play portrayed situations which happen often in life.

Parents Weekend Opened Avenues of Communication

Parents Weekend, April 28-30, provided an opportunity for students to introduce their parents to their way of living.

Many activities were scheduled, including a free movie; coffeehouse entertainment by Bob Hardy; a dance; a concert by the Concert Band, Symphonic Singers, and Girls Glee Club; social hours; tours of the campus; and organizations displays. The Tau Kappa Epsilon Bush Bash was also open to parents, showing a more realistic side of college life. To conclude the weekend, the Delta Zeta Sorority held a Pancake Brunch on Sunday which many families attended.

Netters Showed Best Season Performance Ever

The Stout tennis team ended its season with an 8-5 record as they picked up two wins in the last week of play, nailing Winona 8-1 and Stevens Point 6-3. Marv Benzing, Stout's number one man, won 6-2 and 6-1 over Winona. Bob Buckley won 6-3, 7-6; Dan Roedl 7-6, 6-2; Tom Casadonte won 6-1, 6-2; Mark Holdredge 6-1, 6-0; and Garv Andres won 6-4, 4-6.

The doubles matches saw Stout's number one team of Banzing and Buckley, and number two team of Roedle and Casadonte win scores of 6-1 and 6-0, and 7-6 and 6-2, respectively.

Benzing finished his singles season against Point with 15-5 by shutting out his opponent 6-0 and 6-0. Buckley finished 11-7 with a 6-0, 6-2 victory and Roedl ended with an 11-5 mark by beating his opponent 6-2 and 7-5.

The 8-5 record earned by Coach Bob Smith and his squad was the best ever for a Bluedevil team.

Golf Team Played Short Season

The 1972 golf season ran from April 20 through May 6. Stout's golfers obtained a final standing of three wins, ten losses, and one tie. All of the meets were triangular or quadrangular except one. Although Stout tied for eighth place with Superior in conference play, the team showed fine work for the amount of outdoor weather available.

Joe Springer, voted the Most Valuable Player, had an average score of 78.1 for the season; and deserved recognition on the conference level.

Largest Class Presented at Spring Commencement

The rapid growth rate of Stout was shown by the 1972 graduating class. The class of nearly 800 was the largest in the seventy-nine year history of the University.

Among those honored at the commencement ceremony on May 13 were two distinguished alumni, Lenore L. Landry, for her wide contributions to home economics; and Verne C. Fryklund, a former army colonel who served as President of Stout from 1945 until his retirement in 1961.

Representing the faculty with a charge to the graduates was Dr. John Deutscher, professor in Counseling and Personnel Services. The student representative who spoke was Hector Cruz.

Following the ceremony, a reception and dinner was held in the Commons for the graduates, their families and friends.
